Welcome to our ninth festival! This year we are excited to be playing alongside our inspiring friends, the Navarra Quartet, as well as Ivan, Douglas and the brilliant young Fournier Trio. We were so delighted with the success of our concert in the Theatre Royal last year that we have decided to return for a special programme including Schubert’s ‘Death and the Maiden’ and one of Brahms’s incomparable String Sextets. There are a few changes, firstly that the festival will run from Friday to Monday this year, secondly our first family-friendly concert on Saturday morning. Parents and children of any age welcome – along with everyone else of course! Finally, for the first time we are offering reserved seats for concerts at the Discovery Centre and the Theatre Royal.

We look forward to seeing you in April.
